Alberto Nespoli is an Italian/Amsterdam based, enthusiastic and experienced interior and spatial designer specialising in user centered experience design. His commitment is to use design as a tool to explore life in order to reach a diverse glance, taking inspiration from human, animal, natural behaviours, social and political issues, technology, limitations, vision and interaction. Good Architecture and Design do not solve just a problem but reflects back a question, a new challenge. His goal is to interpret contemporary life with an active approach, drifting away from the form/function paradigm towards a gesture/ethics one. Alberto has 3+ years working experience and possesses a vast skillset ranging from design to project. During his school's years he studied in Italy, Japan, Australia, and America to interpret the design into a new contemporary vision.
